Governor Garcelon and his Coun cil decided that a large portion of the members of the Legislature, Republicans, Democrats and Greenbackers, had not been elected according to law .- Bulletin.

"Gov. Garcelon and his Council decided" no such thing. They decided that 25 Republicans were not elected, but not one Democrat or Greenbacker was thrown out. Here is the truth of the case as related by the Marietta Register:

The actual returns, before Governor Garcelon's hands touched them. were as follows: In the Senate, 19 Republicans and 12 Fusionists; in the House, 90 Republicans and 61 Fusionists. This gave the Republicans 7 majority in the Senate and 29 in the House, or 36 on joint ballot. But Gov. Garcelon and his Council counted out of the Senate 8 Republicans and put Fusionists in their seats. In the House they counted out 17 Republicans and put Fusionists in their places, giving them 26 majority on joint ballot. The Council state that they found no errors in the Fusion districts sufficient to cause the relection of a member, but in Republican districts they found enough to count out 25 members! Was there ever before an election in which all the mistakes that told were on the

This villainy in Maine is the most fatal stab at popular government that has ever been made. It is a deliberate attempt to steal power from the people. And it is a lesson which should arouse the American mind to thoughtful study. It shows that the Republic never was so threatened from internal foes as at present-foes that would commit any wrong to acquire power. This is like all the democratic statements of the Maine rebellion. unwarranted. The whole proceeding-the submission of the questions and the decision-was in strict conformity to the Constitution. The Court "shall be obliged to give their Average daily attendance...... opinion upon important questions of law, and upon solemn occasions, when required by the Governor, Council. Senate or House of Representatives." The Governor submitted the questions, and the Supreme Court, convening in special session for that purpose, all the Justices being present, pronounced a decision. The decision was constitutional, and therefore binding, and a refusal to obey it is simply rebellion. Nothing less can be made of it.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday brings the painful news of the drowning of Henry Hartwig. It says: Henry Hartwig, engineer of the Mad-ison packet Louis A. Sherley, fell from the boat as she was touching the wharf at Aurora, yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, and was drowned. Efforts are being made to secover the body. Hart-wig is from Covington, Ky., and is about 60 years of age. He leaves a wife and four children. His wife is an invalid. It is feared the shock of his sudden unfortunate man had walked out on the boat's fantail to oil the journals of the shaft, and was thrown into the river by the shock caused by landing at the wharfwere made with all the dispatch possi-ble, but they were of no avail.

The body was subsequently recovered, and taken to his late residence in Covis only two weeks since the Journal announced a visit from the deceased to his aged parents. He was a good man.

[Grafic, after Proctor.] Space is very large. It is immense, very immense. A great deal of immensity exists in space. Space has no top, no bottom. In fact, it is bottomless both at the bottom and at the top. Space extends as far for-ward as it does backward, vice versa or versa vice. There is no compass of space and no boxing of the compass. A billion million million of miles traveled in space won't bring a man any nearer the end than one mile or one inch. Consequently in space it is better to stay where you are and let well enough alone.
